Judge Katherine Bidegaray is a lifelong Montanan, a graduate of the University of Montana and the Montana Law School. She worked as a private attorney for 17 years and has served for 20 years as a District Judge in Richland County, Montana. She is a candidate in the 2024 election to serve as a Justice on the Montana Supreme Court.

“My choice to pursue a career in the legal profession was inspired by the truly amazing Montana State Constitution and the many rights guaranteed for all of us in that historic document. In law school, I learned about the powerful, positive impact that Montana’s Constitution and the U.S. Constitution have on our ability as Americans and as Montanans to thrive, find opportunity, and live with freedoms unlike in any other country in the world.”

“As a four-time elected District Judge, I am proud of my hard-earned reputation for being impartial, fair, and true to the letter of the law and the Montana State Constitution. I am running to serve as a Justice on the Montana Supreme Court because Montanans have invested in me as a person and as a lawyer. My extensive experience and in-depth understanding of our laws and our Constitution is the result of that investment. I am deeply motivated to continue to give back to the people of Montana, serving as a Justice on the Montana Supreme Court for ALL Montanans.”
